Welcome to Econ 3345 Global Economics and Business. You could not have chosen a better time to take this course. It has been over 20 years since a large multilateral trade pact has been negotiated. During this semester, it is likely that two such trade pacts will be debated and voted upon by Congress. The first is the Trans-Pacific Partnership (TPP) which comprises 12 nations in Asia and the Americas including the U. S., Japan, Australia, and Vietnam. The TPP lowers trade barriers for goods and services ranging from poultry to building materials and sets commercial rules for 40% of the global economy. The second trade pact is between the European Union (EU) and the United States that would create a vast trans-Atlantic free trade zone. It is called the Trans-Atlantic Trade and Investment Partnership (TTIP). Tariffs would be eliminated to almost zero and a host of non-tariff barriers and regulations would be streamlined or eliminated. It is highly likely that both of these trade pacts will be voted down by Congress. Throughout the course, we will evaluate the pros and cons of both of these pacts. In addition, you will be able to observe the immigration issue which the EU is dealing with and some of the resulting policy changes that may result such as changes in the freedom of movement within the EU. Another issue that will be debated during the semester is changes in the EU. Britain will be voting on whether to leave the EU in 2017 (Brexit) and Catalonia will be trying to become independent from Spain. In November 2015, the Chinese yuan was designated by the IMF as a one of five key currencies in a basket of currencies that make up the IMF’s lending instrument. You will be here when inflation in the EU is almost zero and the dollar has appreciated by roughly 15% against the euro over the last 12 months. Both of these factors should help extend your travel budget.

This Economics course is normally labeled International Economics. The purpose of this course is to help you to understand the economic principles underlying international economics. For the most part, this course will focus on causes and patterns of international trade. First, we will analyze free trade and comparative advantage to determine who gains from trade and who loses. Next, tariffs and nontariff trade barriers as well as the role governments play in regulating and enhancing trade will be studied. Regional arrangements such as the EU and NAFTA as well the TPP and the TTIP will also be discussed and The second half of the course will focus on understanding a nation’s Balance of Payments and exchange rate determination. Mechanisms of International adjustment to balance of payments deficits and surpluses and exchange rate adjustments will also be studied. As discussed in the introduction, current global issues related to these topics will be an important focus of this course.

Grading:

There will be two major tests, a final examination, and a team presentation. The two tests will be worth 25 percent each. The final exam will be worth 25 percent. The team presentation will be worth 15 percent. The final 10 percent will be based on quizzes given in each class period (count ten best quizzes), one page critique of relevant topic news article (one half point for each critique accepted). The Final grade will use plus and minus grading. Course grades will be approximately distributed according to the recommended guidelines of the Economics Department at the University of Iowa, which is 30% A’s, 40% B’s, 25% C’s and 5% D’s. These are only guidelines.

Types of Tests and Quizzes:

The quizzes will be mainly multiple-choice, but there will be a few fill in the blanks and true false. The quizzes will be mainly from the text to test your understanding of the assigned readings. The two tests and final examination will be mostly essay and problems. The essay questions will be graded on the basis of the following four criteria: (1) content from the book and notes, (2) organization of your answer, (3) grammar, (4) the amount and quality of the outside reading from suggested websites and other outside sources like the International Herald Tribune. Articles discussed in class from the various websites as well as assigned handouts and problems will also be tested with at least one essay question on each test and the final examination. Naturally content is the most important element in an essay question and will constitute 60 percent of your grade for each essay question. The other three criteria will constitute the other 40 percent.

Dates of the Two Tests and Final Examination:

The first test will be given on _________________. The second test will be given on_______________. The final examination will be given between April 6 and April 8. The actual date of the final is determined by CIMBA. The team presentation will be made on the last class day.
